The Harbinger

Thanksgiving Day is a National Holiday

celebrated on various dates in Canada, the United States, some of the Caribbean islands, and Liberia. It began as a day of giving thanks for the blessing of the harvest and of the preceding year. Similarly named festival holidays occur in Germany and Japan. Thanksgiving is celebrated on the second Monday of October in Canada and on the fourth Thursday of November in the United States, and around the same part of the year in other places. Although Thanksgiving has historical roots in religious and cultural traditions, it has long been celebrated as a secular holiday as well.

The Thanksgiving Story.

Most stories of Thanksgiving history start with the harvest celebration of the pilgrims and the Native Americans that took place in the autumn of 1621.

Although they did have a three-day feast in celebration of a good harvest, and the local natives did participate, this "first thanksgiving" was not a holiday, simply a gathering.

Annual Congregational Meeting—December 14, 2025

Vote on 2026 Budget & New Board Members

GNH's annual congregational meeting will follow Sunday's service on December 14. It's important for members to attend to vote on our 2026 budget and to elect two new Board officers to replace Ruth Kraus and John Suddarth, whose terms end at the end of 2025.

Marcia Venus and Allen Jerome are up for election to replace them.

Please mark your calendars now so you're sure to attend.

We must have a quorum of at least 30% of the membership present to take a vote.

WOMEN'S ACTION NETWORK DONATIONS

The Women's Action Network (WAN) is pleased to report recent donations of $100 each to these charities that we support:

Valley Interfaith Community Resource Center,

Sheakley Center for Youth,

UpSpring for disadvantaged and homeless children, and Sweet Cheeks Diaper Bank.

These donations are from our Outreach Fund that depends on your donations and the Kroger Community Rewards Program.

You can help by signing up for the Kroger Program.

Holiday Gift Donations Requested for VICRC and Lighthouse

Valley Interfaith Community Resource Center (VICRC) and Lighthouse are again requesting gift donations for the holiday season.

In 2024, we donated 14 $50 gift certificates to Lighthouse and 31 $25 gift certificates to VICRC

This year, VICRC has asked for $25 gift cards from either Walmart or Target and will also accept children's toys and clothes for toddlers/babies (unwrapped).

These are due at GNH by Sunday, December 7.

Lighthouse has asked for $50 gift cards
from either Amazon, Kroger, Target, Walmart, Meijer, T J Maxx, or Burlington.

These are due at GNH by Sunday, November 23.

If you prefer to purchase a $25 gift card for Lighthouse, we can pair two given by two different donors to equal one gift.

Curtailment of SNAP Benefits Heightens Need for Donations to VICRC

Valley Interfaith Community Resource Center (VICRC) is especially in need of our support since SNAP benefits have been curtailed as a result of the government shutdown. Food and toiletry donations are encouraged, including such items as pasta, cereal, tuna, canned fruit, and paper products (particularly diapers and feminine hygiene products). Please put your donations in the large basket or plastic tub at the base of the stairs in the Quimby Room foyer, and they will be delivered to VICRC.

FROM NOWHERE TO NOW HERE

Tom Lottman

Last Sunday we talked about a recent research study that concluded that almost 90% of daily human activity is done on autopilot. The neuroscientist Christof Koch of the Allen Institute for Brain Science describes it as being Nowhere and the need to change our experiences to Now here. Our encounter with reality is constrained by what Koch calls our perception box. What we see, touch, hear, taste, and smell we assume to be reality, but in fact all of our experience of the world is mediated by our senses interpreted by our brain. For many of us, our perception box is quite small and limiting. It's useful to expand our perception box through some simple daily exercises, and for some even escaping our perception box through meditation, etc. The key lies not in the complexity of what we do, but in the quality of the attention we bring to it. Consciousness, awareness, and mindfulness expand not through effort alone, but through the presence, reflection, and intention we bring to everyday life.

One of the simplest yet most transformative practices is mindful breathing. It's something we never stop doing, so it's always available for increased mindfulness. Periodically during the day, stop and consciously attend to the rhythm of your breathing, noticing the air entering and leaving your body, the motion of your midsection as you inhale and exhale. And for a couple of breaths, intentionally make your exhale longer than your inhale. Or you can practice the physiological sigh doing two intake breaths with a prolonged exhale. These are strategies to activate your parasympathetic nervous system, your rest and digest system. This practice reduces stress and improves emotional regulation. A few minutes each day spent being aware of your breathing can recalibrate consciousness toward a calm clarity.

Expanding consciousness doesn't mean withdrawing from the world, but rather deeper participation in it. When you move from nowhere to now here, the ordinary becomes extraordinary.

If it's of interest to GNH folks, in future articles I will add other daily activities including mindful experience eating, walking, art, nature, gratitude, kindness, and reflection. Living horizontally means an intentional mindful connection to new ideas, new people, new experiences. It's not about being elsewhere, but rather being here, fully present in the simplicity and yet majesty of everyday life.

GNH Community Garden

IT'S A WRAP!

A huge thank you to the community garden team for the successful wrap up of our second season of growing together in the Mary Lou Auffman community garden. We had some unusual things grown this summer, cotton, loofah squash -- which, when harvested small can be eaten and when left to grow large can be peeled and dried into loofah sponges, magnificent sunflowers and a million cherry tomatoes. A special thank you to Anita and Alan Jerome for their plot of cutting flowers. It made the garden look beautiful and made for lots of pretty flowers for our Sunday morning services.

A special thank you to the hearty team that closed up the garden this year. Sera Morris, Andrew Ketterer, Nicole McDonald and Mike Dirr. In 3 hours they managed to clear the beds, remove a lot of the invasive weeds that had grown across from garden to garden, and Mike single-handedly attacked the far end of the garden that will host the new beds next year. As you can see, it really does look wonderful.

Thank you very much to the whole team.
